

The City of Bloomington Utilities has issued a precautionary boil water advisory for some of its customers following a water main break repair that occurred on Thursday, January 15 in the 5300 block of South Old State Road 37. The following areas are impacted by the precautionary boil order advisory issued on Thursday, January 15.

- 4000-5300 blocks of South Old State Road 37
- South Orchard Lane
- 4400-4700 blocks of South College Drive
- 4800-6000 blocks of South Rogers Street
- West Clear Creek Drive
- 5000 block of South Madison Street
- South Southway Drive
- West Church Lane
- South Glenda Court
- South White Pine Drive
- West White Pine Court
- West Persimmon Court
- West Wayside Drive
- South Wallace Court
- South Charlie Lane
- South Catherine Street
- South Phyllis Street

Immediately after normal water pressure is restored, customers in these areas are advised to boil drinking water for 5 minutes prior to consumption. Tap water is okay for washing/bathing. Additionally, once water service is restored, these customers are advised to flush their systems by running cold water through all fixtures, including the washing machine until the water runs clear. A public advisory will be issued through local media outlets when the precautionary boil advisory is lifted. For more information, customers of the City of Bloomington Utilities can call 812-339-1444.